

"YOU ARE HERE" HERBERT HOOVER HIGH SCHOOL

VOLUME 24

1992-1993

Difecions inte

f you are actually reading this, you are one of the few. Each year, the editors sweat and toil over an opening that will sum up the feelings and hard work of the yearbook staff, and yet, most people just skim over the opening. After all, who would want to read this when it is not required for a class. This year, the staff argued, discussed, screamed, pouted, whined, and finally voted on the theme YOU ARE HERE.

YOU ARE HERE guarantees that you, the reader, are actually represented in this yearbook. Whether you were a student trying to pass algebra, a member of the harmonious bands or choirs, or a determined player on one of the athletic teams, you added to the rich tradition of Hoover High School. The yearbook staff has made a valiant effort to make sure the yearbook is representative of the diversity at Hoover. The theme YOU ARE HERE means that everyone deserves to be recognized as a part of high school life. This includes the most popular senior to the sometimes lost freshmen.

This year, the school celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary. The saying "History always repeats itself" holds true because each year Hoover students and staff excel in athletics, academics, and the fine arts. From the day Hoover opened, every student has helped to make Hoover an excellent place to grow and learn. Throughout the yearbook, you will find arrows which contain facts about Hoover's history. These provide directions into the future and a link to the past. By reading these historical facts, hopefully everyone will see how far Hoover has progressed and all the rich traditions that are continuing. by Katherine Doudna and Heather Starek hose were the days. Let's go back to the year 1968 when Hoover High first opened. It has been 25 years since then, and nine teachers have been here to see the changes in clothes, hairstyles, music, cars, and many more. The 25th year teachers are Sr. Hollingsworth, Mr. Gay, Mr. Jankovitz, Mr. Murphy, Mr. Ludwig, Mr. Tychsen, Mr. Linder, Mr. Watson, and Mr. Adams. We would like to honor these nine teachers for their hard work and dedication. Thank you for all these years and for all the activities you've been apart of and supported. Without your help, Hoover would not be what it is today.

That Was Then...

And this is now!

his is Hoover High in 1993! Hoover has gone through phases of greased-back hair, sideburns, and bellbottoms. Now rap music, Guess jeans, Polos, and The Gap arc on the cutting edge of style. Through the years, Hoover has changed with many new students, staff, and ideas.

Today's Hoover High School consists of considerable pride and tradition. Senior Brenda Yancey said, "Even though our sports teams do not always win, it seems like there is always a big crowd with lots of school spirit."

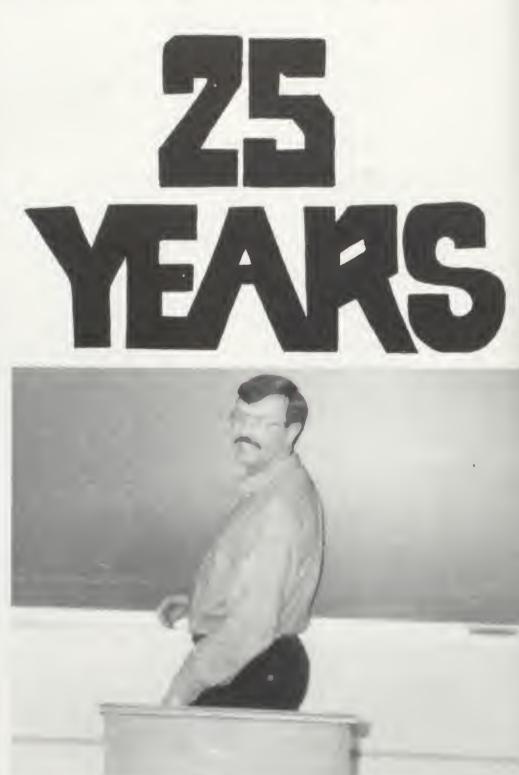

Hoover is more than just a place to get an education. Hoover has many activities that every student can get involved in. There is student council, debate, and over 15 different sports, musical, and theater opportunities.

Hoover Counselor Robert Jankovitz summed up his positive feelings about Hoover when he said, "I hope the next twenty-five years are as fun as the last twenty-five were."

An Animated

uring Homecoming spirit week there were many different types of activities for students to become involved in. They included dressing up on spirit days, sidewalk painting, and powderpuff football games. The theme for this year's activities was "Celebration of Animation." Everyone from freshmen to seniors showed their school spirit. Sophomore Aaron Starek showed his school spirit through his artistic ability as he won first place in the sidewalk painting contest.

The powder puff game was rough and tough, as the sophomores defeated the freshmen and the seniors defeated the juniors. The game sparked controversey with the junior class because that the game was refereed by senior football players. The game ended with the juniors on the one yard line and down by only one touchdown. The junior class promised a victory next year.

The spirit week was topped off by an inspiring assembly. The assembly started by celebrating the 25th anniversary of Hoover High School and continued with a traditional speech by Coach Lundholm. The highlight of the assembly was a special surprise event. Three innocent freshmen guys thought they were getting a chance to kiss a member of the senior court, but instead ended up kissing three varsity football players. The crowd roared with laughter, and was only silenced by the announcing of Homccoming Queen Nicole Scott and King Steven Graves.

At the game, Easter Foods donated a 200-ft. sub, with all proceeds going to Hoover. Even though Roosevelt won the game, the school spirit was evident as the students cheered the Huskies on.

The Homecoming festivities ended with the dance, appropriately decorated with cartoon characters. Everyone worked hard to make "Celebration of Animation" the best Homecoming ever. by Katherine Doudna he 1992 Homecoming King and Queen were Steven Wesley Graves Jr. and Kellean Nicole Scott. Both students were chosen to represent Hoover High School because of their strong leadership abilities. The senior court was chosen by a vote taken from the senior class, and consisted of five boys and five girls. They were Angela Walker, Amy Westercamp, Andra VanRoekel, Molly Hulten, Nicole Scott, Liddell Thomas, Ben Lustig, Kyle Kelly, Andrew Haigh, and Steve Graves.

Royalty 92

Scott said that she was surprized to be chosen as Queen, and said," I didn't believe it at first, so I just sat there for a second, waiting for Mr. Drummond to say he was just kidding, then I thought about and realized he wouldn't joke at a time like that!" All in all, Scott said that, "It feels pretty good to be chosen!"

Steve Graves said he really enjoyed being on court and felt that it was a very interesting experience. Graves said that he was happy just being elected for court, and didn't expect to get crowned. Graves said his best memory of the 1992 Homccoming activities was the dance, "Celebration of Animation."

close with the annual homecoming dance. The dance coming dance. The dance was Oct. 17 in the Hoover Student Center. The school was decorated in the theme "Celebration of Animation." Students danced with all their favorite cartoon characters, like Mickey Mouse and Kermit the Frog, surrounding them.

Homecoming dance has become quite a big event for some students, while others take a more casual approach. Senior Andrew Haigh said, "I did not spend much time or money on my homecoming outfit. I used the same outfit for the assembly." Sophomore Amy Martin said, "I spent about two hours getting ready, but homecoming is not really that big of a deal." Sophomore Jessica Thorne said, "It (homecoming) was very important to me..... I spent about a month looking for my dress."

When the night arrived, students came to the dance in a variety of different hair and clothing styles, but everyone wanted to have a good time.

The Hoover students seemed pleased with the homecoming dance. Junior Bryan Martin said, "The music was just right. They mixed it up well. Everybody was socializing." Sophomore Darci Hoffman said, "I thought it was pretty cool even though I was fighting with my date." The students approval was seen through the large ticket sales and many smiling faces.

Student of All Seasons

enior Nicole Scott was named the 1993 Student of All Seasons. She has participated in a variety of school activities in the past four years. Scott's activities included being a member of the Student Council, treasurer of Senior Board, homecoming queen, features editor for the Challenger, a Conflict Manager, a cheerleader for all four years, and a member of the track team.

The other Students of All Seasons candidates were seniors Tye Kirk, Andra Van Roekel, Adam Albright, and Katherine Doudna. Kirk participated in Senior Board, Student Council, National Honor Society, KDOG, and basketball. Van Rockel has been in band, Student Council, Homecoming Court, track, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Albright's activities included Student Council, National Honor Society, drama, soccer, swimming and diving. Doudna has been on the Honor Roll all four years, earned an Academic Letter, and was involved in Student Council, volleyball, basketball, and tennis.

The underclassmen candidates were freshman Cassie Murphy, sophomore Brad Haugh, and junior Miehelle King. Murphy was involved with Student Council, choir, diving, and captain of the freshmen basketball cheerleaders. Haugh has been involved in football, basketball, baseball, and track. He was also active as a Conflict Manager, Peer Helper, and in Student Council. King has participated in Academic Deeathlon, Student Council, Peer Helpers, Conflict Managers, Homecoming Court, and National Honor Society.

New to the dance was a video D.J., who played music videos on a large screen T.V. Also new was the addition of karoke. As a result, many students were pleased with the dance.

"It was humorous to watch people make fools of themselves doing karoke," junior Nicki Owens said. "It seemed like a lot of people went."

Overall, the committee was delighted with the results.

"We were pleased with the turnout. We wanted to try new things to make the dance more fun and were glad they worked," chairperson Annette Stanley said.

The dance sold over 300 tickets and brought in more than $1,500 profit for Student Council.

In five years, I hope to graduate with a degree in pharmacy and leave the cold, wet Iowa snow for the warm, embracing sun of Florida.

Katherine Doudna

I would eventually like to become a doctor, but more importantly, I want to keep my Christian faith, have a positive attitude, and always have lots of fun.

Kristin Carber

My main goals are to be successful, independent, and happy.

Reaching for the Stars

Nha Ho

The new language has been a handicap in my struggle; I was able to overcome it with great effort and determination. I will be attending the University of Iowa. My goal is to go as far as I can in the medical field, so that I can bring my service to the people.

Heather Ladner

The only thing I, or anyone else, can ever hope for is to always be happy.

Annette Stanley

I plan on majoring in journalism at the University of Iowa. After graduating from law school, I would like to work as a lawyer for a broadcasting corporation.

Hoover's Top 3%

Exchange Students Experience America

n the '92-'93 school year Hoover was fortunate to have four unique students from foreign lands. Johan Balle, Rune Damskov, and Marlene Due came from Denmark, while Manfred Dikkers came from Holland. All of them had taken numerous years of English back home and came here speaking English fluently.

Besides being good students in the classroom, they were all excellent athletes. Balle participated in football, tennis, soccer, and was voted second team all conference kicker for football. Due was a top swimmer for the Marlins swim team and also ran track.

"The team was very competitive with each other, but yet we had a lot of fun and remained close friends," Due said. Damskov was on the football team, ran track and played soccer. Dikkers played basketball on the varsity team.

While Due and Balle are returning back to Denmark in July, Damskov and Dikkers plan to stay here in Iowa. Damskov plans to attend college at either Iowa or Iowa State. Dikkers plans to stay here at Hoover for his senior year.

He also hopes to stay here in Iowa for college.

Central Campus excels at learning

entral Campus offers many different classes for all Des Moines high school students. Some classes offered are drafting, fashion designing, marine biology, photography, and advanced foreign languages.

"Central has a wide variety of classes for people's interests. I take Italian III and IV. I like going to Central Campus because you meet new people from different schools and there are no cliques," sophomore Andrea Boyd said.

Central Campus also offers a program which allows students to become a licensed practical nurse after three years of classes.

Sophomore Shawntelle Madison is one of the Hoover students taking advantage of this program. She said, "The LPN program is a bit slow going at first, but as time passes on it gets very interesting.. During the junior year, students are able to visit the hospital for further training."

his year Hoover welcomed 15 new faculty members. In the English department four new teachers were added to the staff -- Laura Ahrendt, Mary Ann Spicer, Kirk Johnson, and Magdalena Voy, who taught Spanish I.

The home economics teacher, Chris Gammell, taught many courses including child development and adult living.

Our history department gained Tim Pezzetti, who also coached freshmen football and freshmen girls basketball.

New to the science department were Jay Groth, who also coached the wrestling team, and Ann Backstrom, who assisted all the science instructors in the department.

The music department added orchestra instructor David Conrad.

The newest addition to the physical education department was Debbie Stetson, who also taught PEOPEL P.E.

The new Campus Monitor, Robert Boley, was accepted well by students.

New in the attendance office, Linda Thomason, helped keep the students in class.

Last, but definately not least, Billie Stone became the new vice principal.

Mini-Mag Immortalizes 1992-1993

elcome to the world of Mini-Mag! This section is here to help recap some of the major events that occured throughout the 1992-1993 school year.

Along with the major world and national events, Des Moines has had some of its own news. Unfortunately this news hit hard and close to home. Jan. 19, 1993, seemed to come to a stand still as lowal player Chris Street was killed in an auto accident. Also making headlines through the state were the slayings of Drake Diner managers Tim Burnette and former Hoover student Cara

by Jill Jackson and Andra VanRoekel

McGrane.

Street's death shocks lowa

he night of Jan. 19, 1993, was a time of grief for the state of lowa and the University of lowa. While returning back to the college campus from a team dinner with his girlfriend, Chris Street procccdcd onto the highway where he was sideswiped by a snowplow that was exceeding the speed limit. This impact caused Street's car to spin and hit an oncoming car. Street was killed instantly, and his girlfriend was injured.

Before becoming an Iowa Hawkeye, Chris was an all-star player for the Indianola Indians. The town has set up a memorial fund in his honor to build a new recreation center in Indianola.

Clinton/Gore End GOP Reign

Bill Clinton, sitting in with the band, turned out an impressive version of "Heartbreak Hotel" as Arsenio Hall gestured approvingly in the musical opening of "The Arsenio Hall Show" taping at Paramount Studios in June 1992. Hall said of the presidential hopeful's talent on the saxophone, "It's good to see a Democrat blowing something other than the election."

by Associated Press

'It's good to see a Democrat blowing something other than the election." -- Arsenio Hall residential candidate Bill Clinton and his running mate, Senator Al Gore, held arms aloft and stood before a convention hall brimming with euphoria and confidence on July 17, 1992, in New York's Madison Square Garden. Exhilaration swept through the convention hall.

In an emotional address to the convention, Clinton told delegates he accepted the nomination "in the name of the people, (who) pay the taxes, raise the kids and play by the rules -- the hard-working Americans who make up our forgotten middle class."

The speech brought to a festive, foot-stomping close a four day Democratic convention that adopted a moderate platform reflecting the message of its baby-boomer ticket.

hree months after the world woke up to one of the worst famines in history, food started to reach hundreds of thousands of Somalis. Estimates of the dead range from 100,000 to half a million, but no one knows just how many have perished in the Horn of Africa nation.

The Central Bay region of the country has been affected. It served as the main battleground for clans fighting for supremacy after Siad Barre's ouster. Consequently, its harvests were most disrupted and its people most uprooted and displaced and left in great jeopardy.

More than a million Somalis have fled their homeland for refugee camps in neighboring countries, with the wealthier ones seeking safe haven in Europe, the United States, Canada and elsewhere.

Central Somalia is where the international community has concentrated its relief efforts, with airlifts to the towns of Belet Huen, Baidoa, Bardera and Hoddur, and airdrops to smaller villages in the region.

Many have died in the factional fighting that has driven the nation since former leader Siad Barre's ouster. Casualty estimates range from conservative figures of 10,000 to the 60,000 estimated by the human rights group Africa Watch.

Hurricane Andrew Bombs the South

urricanc Andrew struck southern Florida on August 24, 1992, with wind gusting to 164 mph and a 12-foot tidal surge that flattened many homes, uprooted trees, flung boats into the streets and wrecked an entire Air Force base.

The hurricane continued on, carving its way through the plantation country of Louisiana, throwing tornadoes like darts at a 100-mile-wide target and pumping torrents of rain at storm-weary Louisianians.

Fifty-five deaths were directly or indirectly linked to the hurricane -- 41 in Florida, 10 in Louisiana and four in the Bahamas.

The hurricane's 54-hour U.S. rampage, the most expensive natural disaster ever in the coutry, caused estimated damages of $20 billion in Florida, $1.5 billion in Louisiana and $250 million in the Bahamas.

n era of amateurism passed into an age of professionalism, and the Olympics were trans formed forever, when professional athletes were allowed to compete in the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain.

The United States emerged from its two-decade Olympic funk, finishing only four behind in the closest medals race since America won in 1964 in Tokyo. Now it stands poised to rule the sports world in Atlanta in 1996 after arguably its greatest Summer Games.

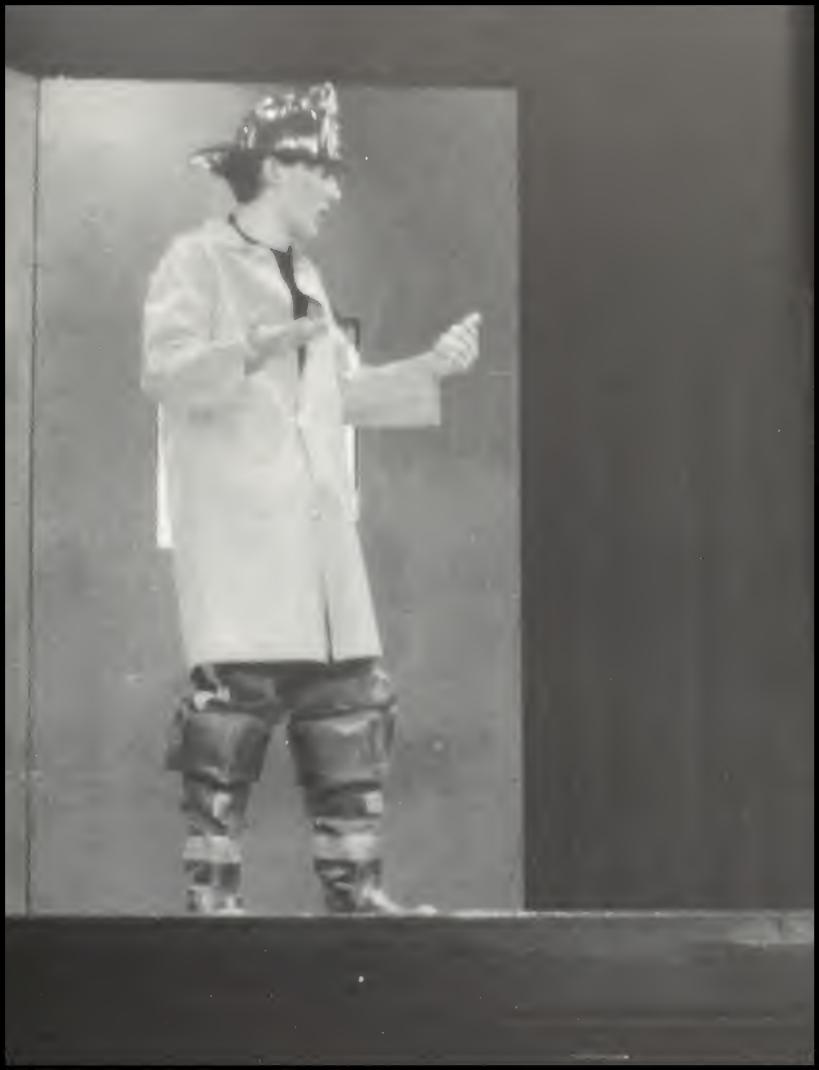

America's 108 mcdals surpassed by one the total in 1968 and trailed only the inflated totals of the Soviet-boycotted 1984 Los Angeles Games and the 1904 St. Louis Games, attended by just 12 nations.

Student Council

Makes Its Mark

he 1992-1993 Student Council made its mark at school as well as in the community. The Student Council sold a number of items that ranged from candy bars to carnations to raise money for a stereo system and many other things.

The first semester officers were President Molly Hulten, Vice President Nicole Scott, Secretary Andra VanRoekel, and Treasurer Adam Albright. Scott said, "I really liked being vice president of Student Council this year; me and the other cabinet members had a good time. It was hard to try to get things done during the meetings because sometimes we just weren't taken seriously. Other times we got a lot done. I think, overall. Student Council was pretty successful."

The second semester officers were President Jarriet Dewitt, Vice President Michelle King, Secretary Tye Kirk, and Treasurer Heather Starek. King said, "Our major goal for Student Council was to make it more organized and efficient."

To help Student Council get more organized it was broken up into several large committees. One of the committees was Intercultural Programs, which builds better relations with other students in the school. They try to get people involved in some sort of school activities. They also organized a day to remember Rosa Parks by wearing pink ribbons. There was also a SADD committee which stands for Students Against Drunk Driving. They put red ribbons on cars for Homecoming and got help from several Des Moines Buccaneers to sell suckers to raise money for their committee. Another large committee was the Homecoming and Spring Dance committees. They are the ones who organized all the decorations, food, entertainment, and everything else needed to make the dances memorable.

NHS goes environmental

he National Honor Society is a group of elite junior and senior honor roll students who are chosen because of their success in school and the maintenance of a 3.5 grade point average or higher. This year, the National Honor Society decided to direct their services more towards the environment than they have in the past. Besides supporting the placement of recycling bins in our Hoover parking lot and in our teachers' rooms, they also started a paper drive project where members collected the classroom papers and took them to a recycling site in the area. NHS also decided to help the adopt a park program and held its annual toxic clean-up day. Among these services, the members also helped students who needed tutoring, they served Thanksgiving dinner to the homeless, and held a book and clothing drive, just to name a few.

Mrs. Nancy Winebrenner, who has been the sponsor of National Honor Society for her third year, and the cabinet members decided to adopt an election system that they have never used before. The six seniors that held the first semester cabinet positions were, Co-Presidents, Kristin Carber and Annette Stanley; Vice President, Nha Ho; Secretary, Andra Van Roekel; Treasuer, Amy Farley; and Parliamentarian, Adam Albright. It is customary for seniors to be elected as cabinet members for the whole year. However, the cabinet and sponsor decided to break with tradition and elect a junior cabinet to experience leadership the second semester and gain knowledge to run a successful group next year.

Husky '93

Staff strives to include all or the 1992 - 93 Hoover yearbook staff, it was a year of changes. The school year began with a new journalism teacher, Laura Ahrendt, and with the new teacher came changes in techniques and ideas.

The pages for the 1993 Husky were completed on a special computer program, an improved method than has been used in previous years. New design techniques were utilized to produce a better yearbook and several section editors were chosen to assist co-editors Katherine Doudna and Heather Starek.

Deciding on a theme was the first big project for the Husky staff. The class chose the theme "You Are Here" to show the importance of each student in the school. The Husky staff kept this concept in mind as they tried to include all people in the yearbook.

espite a rough start and some uncooperative workers, the efforts of a small group of people on the Challenger staff allowed for a school newspaper to be published once every three weeks.

One change for the newspaper was the addition of an editorial board. The editorial board, composed of six members, worked as a group to determine what issues to feature in the editorials. The editorials represented the feelings of the entire board and remained anonymous.

The newspaper also utilized new design techniques to improve the appearance of the newspaper. Overall, those who worked made an important contribution to the paper to make up for those who didn't work. Editor-in-chief Heather Starek said, "The staff wasn't as focused this year: but, a few dedicated workers pulled the load of others to make sure deadlines were met."

PEOPLE PE provides opportunities

PEOPLE PE (Physical Education Program for Execeptional Learners) offers high school students a wide variety of physical activities to excel in. One of the new activities the students did this year was taking a trip to the ice skating rink. Instructor Debbie Stetson said, "It was a special treat, and everyone seemed to enjoy it."

In the spring the students tried to get out as much as possible while participating in tennis, softball, conditioning, and track and field. The students also participated in the Special Olympics. The events they competed in included swimming and track and field events.

This year the School Within a School students took a trip to Iowa Methodist Medical Center to participate in a pilot project. The program was called "Corporate Academic Institute."

Conflict Managers resolve tensions

he 1992 - 93 Conflict Managers Christmas with Mrs. Barb Getting, the teacher advisor for the group. The year has taught the managers many creative ways of resolving their own conflicts. The group has been a great help to the students at Hoover. Many students find that it is easier to talk to a peer about a problem rather than an adult. This group of students is selected by the students and is for the students at Hoover.

"The Conflict Manager program has been sucessful for two years now and hopefully will continue in this tradition," said junior Michelle King.

Peer Helpers, positive leaders

select group called Peer Helpers was chosen in the spring of 1992 to represent Hoover. This is the second year for this group at Hoover High.

Students were chosen for their grades and for their leader-ship skills. Grades were important because Peer Helpers spend most of their time tutoring fellow classmates. When they were not busy tutoring, they showed guests around the school and helped with orientation for new students.

When asked what the most rewarding part of being a Peer Helper was, sophomore Kristen Jahn said, "When a student I tutored came up to me and told me he got a good grade on the test I was helping him with. It made me feel good because I helped him achieve a goal."

Radio/TV class

his year's radio/TV class was divided into two groups. KDOG, our own radio station here at Hoover is composed of amateur D.J.'s with their own playlist of songs around a central theme.

Video yearbook students work throughout the year preparing an actual yearbook on video tape. Instructor Kirk Johnson said, "As a first year staff member KDOG offers me a chance to give students a hands-on experience. Anything practical is worth adjusting to."

Student Congress sparks Debate

his year's debate team was open to all students in 9th-12th grade. The team traveled to western Iowa to compete in several student congress sessions sponsored by The Iowa High School Speech Association. Many individual speaking events took place throughout the year along with the Black History Showdown. The experience of the team ranged from freshmen to seniors.

"It is not required, but strongly recommended to enroll in forensics to gain hands-on experience prior to contest," debate instructor Kirk Johnson said.

Meeting the Challenge

Marching Huskies improve throughout season

he Hoover Marching Huskies completed another successful season, which began with a two week band camp before school started, and climaxed with their fifteenth consecutive division I rating at the State Marching Band Contest on October 17, 1992.

The State Contest show consisted of several well-known songs. The band performed "A Winter's Tale", "Eleanor Rigby", "City of Angels", and a medley of "Yesterday" and "It Was a Very Good Year". Featured on solos were seniors Dana Bemis on trumpet, J.J. Bailey on tenor saxophone, and Mandy Beard on melophone.

The band was led on the field by drum majors Kristin Carber and Dana Bemis, and senior flag captains Amy Westercamp and Shelley McLaughlin. Also assisting the band director were student teacher Erin Rasmuson and assistant director Pete McCoy.

Overall, the season was a continual learning process with a successful end result. Director Jerry Tolson said, "It was a challenging, yet successful season, considering all the new students we had to work into the band. I was very pleased with their consistent progress throughout the season."

Concert Band continues

oncert Band continued thier string of Division I ratings. The band received their 23rd consecutive Division I rating at the Iowa High School Music Association Large Group Contest. The band also recieved a Division II+ at the Drake Relays Adventureland Band Festival.

One of the highlights of the year was senior Kristin Carber being selected for All-State Band. Carber was also a semi-finalist in the Des Moines Symphony Young Artist Competition.

The year ended with a concert and awards ceremony on May 18. The outstanding musician award went to Wes Bixby, the director's award went to Amy Farley, and the John Phillip Sousa award went to Carber. The band boosters presented director Jerry Tolson with a plaque to honor him for four years of hard work and dedication to the Hoover bands. This was his last year at Hoover; Tolson will be going to The University of Louisville in Kentucky to work in the jazz department.

Junior Kathy Corbin said, "Mr. Tolson did a lot for the Hoover bands and will be greatly missed."

tradition of great ratings

Jazz Band excels in competition

azz band once again had a successful year. They started the year off by performing with special guest Mike Tomaro, a well known jazz composer and U.S. Army Jazz Band member. Next the band placed second at the South Central Iowa Band Masters Association Jazz Festival and went on to receive a division I rating at the Iowa High School Music Association State Contest. The band continued to have great success in competition as they placed third at the Jack Oates Jazz Festival in Earlham. After receiving a superior rating at the University of Minnesota Jazz Festival, the band ended competition by placing sixth in the Iowa Jazz Championships.

Other highlights for the band included having saxaphonist J.J. Bailey named to the All-State Jazz Band. Keyboard player Gwen Page and saxaphonist Bret Dante also received outstanding soloist awards during the year.

With many returning students, the jazz band is looking forward to another successful year, but they will be without director Jerry Tolson. After four years at Hoover, Tolson will be leaving to take a position at the University of Lousiville. Jazz band parent Sue Beard said she was sorry Tolson was leaving because he placed such an emphasis on jazz.

Bailey receives highest honor

enior J.J. Bailey received the state's highest honor for a jazz band member when he was selected for the state jazz band. The best high school players in the state gathered for a performance at the Hotel Fort Des Moines.

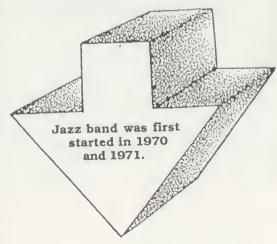

Bailey said he was not certain if he would make All-State. He said, "I knew I had a shot, but I was pleasantly surprised when I was chosen."

In recent years, jazz has become Bailey's favorite type of music. He said, "Jazz possesses a character and emotion that is unparalleled. Improvisation is an outlet to express myself."

Bailey will be attending Northwestern University in Chicago where he will continue to pursue his jazz interests. He said, "I will continue jazz performance my entire life even if it remains simply an avocation."

Progress Shown in Prep Choir

he Prep Choir consisted of 33 freshmen members. This group was a learning choir training to be in other choirs in their future years here at Hoover. Choir director Linda Vanderpool said she was pleased with her students' progress.

In the 1992-93 school year, Prep Choir performed in four concerts. The Master Works concert was held Feb. 23 at Hoover. Vanderpool said, "It was great. It was one of the best concerts we have had at Hoover in a long time. There was an audience of 200, and they enjoyed and responded well to the music. The choirs were the best ever. They sang with three symphony string players. That was really fun for the kids to be accompanied by professionals."

The Mctro Prep Festival was held Mar. 16 at Roosevelt High School. Hoover was among the four attending schools. The other schools that attended were Roosevelt, North, and Lincoln. The students practiced all day long. Then they had dinner and a dance. After the dance they put on a concert. All the schools performed together and separately with a guest conductor.

This year the Concert Choir performed at Graceland College in Lamoni and participated in a special clinic with Dr. Ann Howard-Jones, a noted conductor. Junior Linsay Smith said, "It was fun. It was a nice learning experience." On Feb. 23 in the Hoover Auditorium the choir performed in a Masterworks Concert in which they were accompained by an orchestra and featured student soloists. The choir ended the year with an awards concert on May 11.

strutting their stuff

his year the choir participated in a lot of activities throughout the year. In September, Drake held a All - State camp for kids that wanted to sing better and make All-State. Hoover Harmony sang "One" by Tevin Campbell at the homecoming assembly with senior Aaron Carter as the soloist. During November, Hoover held a CIMC vocal music festival with all of the schools in the CIMC including Dowling, Valley, and Lincoln. Also in November, they had their first concert of the year, called the Fall Choral Concert.

Hoover Harmony sang at "A Christmas Carol" in December. All throughout January, Hoover Harmony practiced to get ready for State Contest at Creston. Harmony received a I rating at this contest. Hoover Harmony sang singing Valentines to students. During the month of March the Choir made a trip to Cedar Rapids Jefferson for a show choir competion.

"This competition is one of the hardest competitions and one of the biggest that we ever competed in this year. The judges there are very hard and they have not heard our style of jazz, so that will make it hard. Our style is more hip-hoppy than jazz, but I think that a lot of schools will be copying our styles next year, "Marcus Cooper said. In April, the Jazz Choir traveled to the University of Minnesota and competed in a Jazz Festival. At the end of this year, they had a State Large Group Contest at Valley. Cooper said, "If you want to hear Jazz in full scales then you should come and hear us; we are the Hoover High Harmony."

nee again, the Orchestra was required to work with small numbers. There were only thirteen members in this year's orehestra, including freshmen Anna West, Tina Martin, Jennifer Merritt, and Gilbert Clay; sophomores Rachael Fredriekson, Karen Laudenslager, Huong Do, and Caprice Crawford; juniors Karen Bolie and Kanika Mayes; and seniors Heather Wilson, Kristi Moseley, and Elizabeth Hanson.

The orchestra participated in the state solo and large group contest and also held winter and spring concerts.

Sophomore Huong Do said, "Orehestra was fun this year. We worked well together as a group and learned a lot about musie. We will miss the seniors and all the leadership they provided."

Musicians Achieve Highest Honor

oover's rich tradition of excellence and talent in music continued Nov. 19-21 when four students performed at the All-State Festival in Ames.

Seniors Luke Landis and Aaron Carter and junior Ethel Darling were selected for the choir. Carter was selected to sing one of four solos. Landis said, "He is by far the most talented singer I know."

Senior Kristin Carber was selected for the band for the second year. She was the only band member from Des Moines selected and one of only 24 flute players for the whole state. She said it was harder to be selected a second time because "everyone is expecting you to make it and there is a lot more pressure on you." All four agreed that being selected for All-State was a great honor. Carber summed up the weekend saying, "Performing in front of all the people with the top musicians from the whole state is a great experience. One I'll never forget."

Commedia VII: Expressions of Individuality

n its seventh Commedia performance, the Hoover Drama Department again put on a spectacular show on October 29-31, 1992. The show, entitled "My Schnauzer Can Walk the Walk and Talk the Talk" or "The Pope Digs Sinead O'Connor", had the audience laughing throughout the performance.

Commedia is a collection of skits developed by students who work long hours to create the skits and rehearse them. Many skits were based on the presidential election and the candidates. Other skits included comments on abortion, racism, and prejudice against women. The skits are designed to use humor to get a serious point across to the audience.

With all the time spent to develop the skits, senior Heather Ladner said the students involved became very close. Plus, they managed to have fun while they were working. Ladner said, "It's a great bonding experience and a 'helluva' good time."

Senior Amanda Murphy feels that high school is a time when many young people develop strong opinions about various issues affecting everyone. Commedia gives the students involved a way to express how they feel about these issues. Murphy said, "I feel that Commedia is a very worthwhile experience. It is a chance for us, as students, to express our views on very important social issues. By acting out scenes dealing with prejudices and other things, hopefully we can help people alleviate their ignorances." by Kristin Carber

A Christmas Carol

Large cast makes for great play

his year the drama department put on their rendition of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" for the winter play. With a east of over 100 students, it was the largest east ever in a Hoover drama production. Each of Hoover's fine arts departments also played an important role in the production.

Junior Sam Tuomi did an excellent job portraying Ebenezer Scrooge, who was led from past, present, to future only to discover the true Christmas spirit that was hidden inside him.

As Bob Cratchit, junior Joe Waller was both convincing and energetic, and showed true patience with Scrooge and his son, Tiny Tim, played by freshman Rich Nagel.

The first ghost to meet up with Scrooge was the Ghost of Christmas Past, played by senior Sarah Crawford. Using fantastic acting, Crawford got her point across by taking Scrooge back to his youth in an attempt to remind him of how special Christmas had once been to him.

After Christmas Past had gone, along came senior Manda Lester as the Ghost of Christmas Present. Lester did an outstanding job showing Scrooge how truly miserable he was, and what a joke of a man others saw him as.

The last ghost to come along was the Ghost of Christmas Yet to Come, played by senior Heather Ladner. In playing this ghost, Ladner fulfilled the task of taking Scrooge into his lonely future, which was filled with sorrow and sadness.

The drama department's version of "A Christmas Carol" was an excellent portrayal, and got the audience into the spirit of the season.

Our Town shows a slice of life

ur Town, which took place on April 24 and 25, was a three -act play put on by the Hoover Drama department. It was a play about family life in the early 1900's in middle America. The play teaches about the qualities of life through the early years of the characters until their deaths.

The actors and actresses performed well considering they had a lot of newcomers. It was also Kirk Johnson's first time as a director at Hoover. One of his favorite sayings was "Cheese and Rice" to control the east . Junior Sam Tuomi said, "Mr. Johnson did an exceptionally good job considering the rowdiness of the cast."

The crowd responded well even though they didn't get half the jokes. Sophomore Vivette Perry said,"This is the best Our Town production I have ever seen."

Small play carries "Gamma Rays"

he spring play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Manln-The-Moon Marigolds", was one of two spring plays put on this year by the drama department. The cast of characters included only five people, making the play somewhat challenging for the actors, though easier for the audience to respond to. The cast included seniors Amanda Murphy as Beatrice, Sara Crawford as Matilda (Tillie), Liz Schneider as Nanny, Manda Lester as Janice Vickery, and junior Alice Tyrell as Ruth.

Murphy, who had the lead role, said she enjoyed working with the unusually small cast because it allowed them to become more involved with the characters. "I liked working with a small group of people because we all took it real seriously and it gave us an opportunity to develop our characters extensively." Murphy said.

Drama instructor Denis Hildreth said that Gamma Rays, "demanded excellent concentration" and that it "was one of the most challenging plays the students have had the opportunity to tackle in their years at Hoover."

Drama Excels At State

Individuals and groups receive high ratings

oover's drama department had another successful turnout at District and State Contests this year. Individuals, small groups, and large groups all participated in the contests and returned with strong results. In all, 14 groups, consisting of 33 students, competed in the Iowa High School Speech Association's District Contest held at Hoover on Jan. 23. Twelve of those groups received the highest rating of I, which allowed them to advance to State Competition in Council Bluffs on Feb. 6. At State, ten groups received division I ratings, and two groups received a II rating.

Several of Hoover's participants received special honors. Two ensemble acting groups were labeled as outstanding at State Contest. The students involved were seniors Amanda Murphy, Liz Rezek, Sara Cox, Manda Lester, and Sarah Crawford in "Dancing At Lughnasa", and juniors Joe Waller and Alice Tyrrell in "The Master Builder". In addition, junior Chad Taylor was given the Critic's Choice award, the highest honor, with his solo mime performance.

Hoover also had a strong turnout for the individual speech contests. Fifteen students participated at District Competition on Feb. 27, with 11 receiving a division I rating. Out of those 11 who advanced to State on Mar. 20, eight received a rating of 1, and three received a rating of II. Two students earned the highest honor of being selected to participate in the All-State festival on Apr. 5 at the University of Northern Iowa. Marv Robinson was chosen after being labeled as outstanding in storytelling, and Lee Johnson was chosen for his public address entry.

Overall, all of the participants represented Hoover well. The hard work and the long hours of practice paid off in the end. Drama teacher Denis Hildreth said, "It was another excellent year -- Hoover continues to do well in speech contests -- mainly due to the dedication of the students involved." by Kristin Carber

1992-93 MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

nding another successful year at Hoover, the ROTC program had an enrollment of 105 cadets. The ROTC program had 32 cadets from the Des Moines area, including East, Lincoln, Roosevelt, Valley, Johnston, and Urbandale.

Students in ROTC participate in many activities. They each shoot air rifles, and do many other outdoor activities. They also practice on their drill team and color guards.

ROTC helped sponsor two blood drives, went on the Hunger Hike, bowled for MDA, helped with Special Olympics and fed the homeless with the Salvation Army. One of their biggest accomplishments was helping with Operation Santa Claus, donating 2,500 items. One accomplishment ROTC is proud of is the community service. "It's a good feeling raising $2,000 and donating it to a good cause," Sergeant Lee Wahlert said.

The ROTC students went on two field trips during the year. In the fall they went to Rock Island Arsenal and visited the Hoover museum and library. In the spring they visited the Eisenhower museum and on the way home stopped off at Worlds of Fun.

"I think that the students are finally understanding the responsibilities in ROTC. There are a lot of good students. They are going to do a lot for this program in the next three or four years," Major Sharratt said.

his year at Hoover a new group ealled the Imani Players was started .The group's main purpose was to bring together past and present African American culture with the fine arts. Leader Mary Ann Spieer said, "Imani produces an extra diversion from a regular academic schedule. The name Imani is a swahili word meaning faith in community, self, and people."

Mary Ann Spicer, a new teacher at Hoover, started the group. Imani is primarily made up of students in African American studies, but other interested students are encouraged to join. It was open to seniors through freshmen.

The group had many performances throughout the year. They produced the musical "Dreamin" in the fall, and in the spring produced "A Soul Gone Home" and "Rhythm and Me". Imani players also had a gospel choir that made appearances at local churches.

Mary Ann Spicer said, "We have had many invitations to perform. There is a true need for this type of group in the community. On a seale of one to ten I rate the success of this group an eight. We still have a long way to go, but it was successfull enough to get students involved. They were able to succeed and felt good about themselves."

Frosh Royalty Elected

he 1992 freshmen homecoming attendants were Jay Hall and Cassie Murphy. They both said they enjoyed the spirit week and the pep assembly.

Murphy expressed her feelings on being an attendant. "I felt shocked because I didn't think I'd get picked," she said. Hall said, "I was glad to be chosen."

Murphy was on the diving team and is active in the Opus Choir. Hall participated in football, track and I.C.P. Murphy and Hall were also queen and king at the 8th grade dance last year at Meredith.

Life is a highway...

or many sophomores, the most exciting event of the year is getting their driver's license. Whether it means driving your own car or mom's grocery getter", many agree that the feeling of freedom and excitement is the same. Sophomore Brad Haugh said he felt "untouchable." Sophomore Samson Boutchee said, "I was on a driving high." Some sophomores felt the down side of having a car. Sophomore Justin Heiden said, "I felt happy to have some type of freedom, but used because everyone always asks for rides."

Most sophomores had managed to avoid their first wreck, except Boutchee, who explained, "I was driving really crazy and not obeying driving laws before my wreck. Now I've settled down and drive half-way safe."

With a little hope and a lot of practice, the sophomores will all be back next year with a little more experience behind the wheel.

Junior representatives exemplify school spirit

im Hansen and Michelle King were chosen by the junior class to represent them on the homecoming Both students have been very involved in school activities. King is involved in student council, NHS, academic decathlon, FCA, cheerleading, peer helpers, and conflict managers. King said, "Being on the court was a great experience. The most fun was when we rode to the stadium. Even though we were freezing to death, we had fun!"

Hansen has participated in base-ball, All-State swimming, football, track, and student council. Hansen said, "Representing my class individually was something I had never done. It was great being on the court."

Seniors share their embarrassing moments

Getting thrown in the pool by Mr. Linder -- Caleb Thomas.

Dancing the cabbage patch to the band at football games with JoDee DeCamp -- Melissa Carter.

I tripped in the front of Mr. Koch's elass -- Sara Cox.

The day when Katherine Doudna and I were walking up to Central Campus and I fell -- Annette Stanley.

I was in study hall and I had a bad cold. I was laughing so hard snot came out my nose -- Dana Canady. When I tripped three times trying to do a curtain call for "Sound of Music" -- Sarah Crawford.

Waking up slightly confused in Mrs. Fors' elass with drool on my desk -- Sara Cox.

My first car. The policeman called it a $5 wonder mobile -- Dave Wagner.

Jumping off the blocks in a swim meet and my suit came off -- Adam Albright.

My sophomore year when Alfie Ferrerya picked me up and put me over his shoulder. I had on a short mini-skirt and my underwear was exposed -- Lydia Hove.

My sophomore year when I had too many Pepsi's and I was riding in a ear and someone said something funny. I laughed so hard, I peed my pants. The driver dropped me off at 7-Eleven and I walked to school to watch the basketball game. When I walked in everyone chanted, "Luke peed his pants!" -- Luke Landis.

The "take me" ineident at one of my summer jobs. Ask Annette Stanley -- Kristin Carber. Having Jodi Lamb's car searched after the homecoming game our senior year -- Alyse Weese.

A certain group of senior guys decided they eould make some extra cash if they put on a wet t-shirt contest with myself and Molly Hulten - Jodi Gremmer.

My junior year when we were playing powder puff and my string in my shorts broke -- Angie Walker.

I was talking to my friend, Annette Stanley, and I ran into a door. Of eourse, I was a freshman -

- Kristin Carber.

After snarfing down a pizza at the mall, my three lunch buddies, Andra Van Roekel, Amy Westercamp, and Marcia Dobson, all jogged rapidly on the slippery sidewalk to the front door of the school. Andra's feet went out from under her and she fell right on her butt. I was laughing and fell and slid right into her. We both looked up and noticed that not only was the whole school laughing at us, but we also were being taped for the 1991-1992 video yearbook -- Mandy Beard.

Prom

ay 15 proved to be an "unforgettable" evening for the elass of '93. Over 100 eouples attended the 1993 Prom held at the Hotel Fort Des Moines.

The theme of "Unforgettable" provided an elegant and romantie evening for the senior class. Balloons and confetti lined the staircase leading up to the Grand Ballroom which was decorated in navy blue, light blue, and silver, the prom eolors. Music was provided by Q102 Music In Motion.

Senior Jill Jaekson said, "I loved how everyone line daneed and people who didn't were watching."

Senior Tye Kirk was part of a group of seniors who slam daneed to a Nirvana song. He said, "We had to be wild and erazy one last time. Besides, slam daneing isn't just daneing; it's a way of life."

The tradition of prom eourt was continued this year. Prom king candidates were Joe McCarthy, J.J. Bailey, Donnie Gier, Johan Balle, and Dylan Cook. Prom queen candidates were Jill Jackson, Liz Rezek, Cathy Vortherms, Sara Cox, and Heidi Barajas. The king and queen were Joe McCarthy and Liz Rezek.

Post prom was held at the Plaza Lanes from 12 a.m.-5 a.m. Activities included bowling, karoake, casino gambling, and earieature drawings. Many prizes were awarded to everyone who attended. Senior Andrew Haigh said, "I had a great time at post prom. I was surprised by how many people stayed until the end. The prizes were great. Two eases of Hee-Haw. Enough said."

Senior Board breaks from tradition

enior Board broke from tradition this year and tried many new ideas to increase participation and productivity. Senior class meetings were held during the day to include and inform the entire class about senior activities. Committees were used within the Senior Board in place of the traditional early morning large group meetings.

The class motto was voted on by the entire class. "What lies before us and behind us are small matters compared to what lies within us" was chosen. Senior Annette Stanley submitted this motto.

The prom committee chose "Unforgettable" as the prom theme with navy blue, light blue, and silver as the colors. Prom was held at the Hotel Fort Des Moines on Saturday, May 15. This was the first time in four years that prom wasn't held at the Park Inn.

Graduation was held Saturday. May 29 at the Knapp Center at Drake. This also was a change from the traditional graduation eeremonies at Veteran's Auditorium.

The good, the bad, and the ugly:

he Class of 1993 gathered at 7:00 am on May 27 for the senior breakfast. About 100 seniors attended and were served eggs, donuts, smokie links, milk, and juice. Senior Breakfast chairperson Lydia Hove said, "J.J. and I were pleased with the turnout and how smoothly everything went."

Overall, most of the seniors said that the breakfast was fun. Senior Kaia Thiese said, "It was nice to get together with my class for one last time before graduation. The best part was when Joe McCarthy accepted his award for being the best dressed in the clothes he wore to school the day before because we spent the night on the baseball field."

Senior Ben Lustig said, "The eggs were great; they tasted just like styrofoam. Actually I really enjoyed the orange juice and thank Amy Westercamp, Annette Stanley, and Kaia Thiese for supplying me with enough to quench my thirst."

Seniors Snap Losing Streak

he 1992 varsity football team began the season hoping to improve on last year's 0-9 record. Their record of 1-8 was an improvement, but the team was plagued by injuries again. Coach Lundholm said, "Team unity improved through many hardships, injuries, and defeats. The team learned a lot about perseverance and never giving up."

The biggest highlight of the season was the 21-13 victory over North. It was the first victory for the fourth-year seniors. Senior Luke Landis said, "It made our four years of hard work worth it." Coach Lundholm said, "It was a great thrill, just to win. I was very happy for the guys. I just wish there were more victories this year."

The players received many post-season awards. Seniors Liddell Thomas and Johan Balle were named Second Team All-Conference. Senior Jason Broich and junior Scott Edwards were named to the Honorable Mention All-Conference team.

The team also voted on many awards. Thomas was voted Offensive Back of the Year and Special Team Player of the Year. Landis was Offensive Lineman of the Year. The Offensive Receiver of the Year was senior Joe McCarthy. Senior Brian Mayes was named Defensive Lineman of the Year. Broich was the Defensive Linebacker of the Year and also Outstanding Defensive Player of the Year. Senior Marlon Knighton was voted Defensive Back of the Year and Most Improved Player of the Year. The award for Outstanding Offensive Player went to senior Dave Wagner. The prestigious Smith Thornton Award was given to senior Joe McCarthy, rewarding him for his dedication and hard work on the practice field, consistent performances during games, and maintaining good grades.

Edwards was voted the Most Promising Junior. The juniors also voted juniors Yusef Smith and Edwards to serve as captains next year.

Sophs Improve

he sophomore football team battled their way to a winning season. Some players said the team has improved a lot since last year and really played well together. Even though the team size was very small, about 21, the team pulled off some great wins. Coach Bob Watson said that the players greatest memory was their victory against Dowling in which they beat them 20-14.

Coach Watson said, "This group showed great ability to adjust each week; we had many key injuries and someone would always step foward."

According to Watson the team accomplished many goals while they improved their overall skills and played with a lot of discipline. Their greatest team accomplishment was having a winning scason which was one of their main goals.

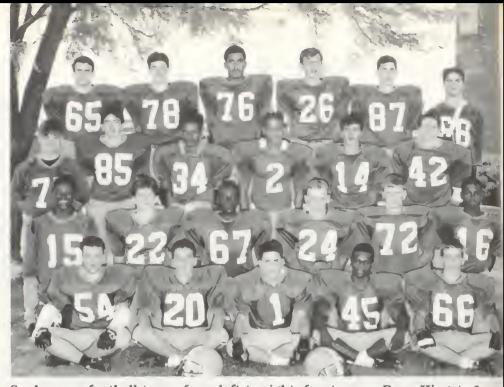

Watson said some defensive standouts were free safety Jeremy Cooper, who lead the team in interceptions with three, and strong safety Gary Martin, who lead the team in tackles with 137. Offensive standouts were quarterback Tyler Wiliams, receiver Jay Siminoni, and running back Ricky Harris.

Martin said, "The season came out better then I thought it would. During the season we proved to a lot of teams that could hold our own."

Ricky Harris, who ran the ball back 90 yards on the first play against Dowling, said, "I thought the season went pretty good. We had our ups and downs. The last three or four games we had really got together and worked hard, and that's why we had a winning season."

Jeremy Cooper said, "We worked hard and came out with an outstanding, winning season. We're all looking foward to next."

Frosh Struggle

he freshmen football season was full of ups and downs. "The team started with a rough first game, but things turned around in the Fort Dodge game," freshmen coach Tim Pezzetti said.

According to Pezzetti, the freshmen strung together two consecutive wins and were very impressive in those two wins. He said they played like a well-disciplined team; but, after that, things began to fall apart.

"They lost four games in a row by 14 points or more. They forgot the things it takes to win and it showed. They began playing the opposite way when they were winning. They lost their discipline and began playing selfishly. Then, in their last game they came back together, playing as a team and tied SE Polk," Pezzetti said.

Some individual standouts were Joe Lamb for defense and Jay Hall on offense. Tyler Pickett and Josh Brott were two players that showed great improvement from the beginning of the season to the end.

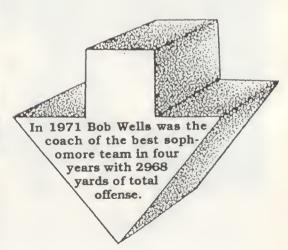

Running back Jay Hall said, "The season was okay, but it could have been better. I hope we do a lot better so we won't disappoint the students and get some fans to support us because we need it."

Husky girls gain experience with a new coach

he 1992 varsity volleyball team completed a hard season while adjusting to a new coach. The girls lost their first few games, but later came back to win two games against Lincoln and North. The final team record was 2-12, with a match record of 4-31-5.

The highlight of the year was the victory against Lincoln. Senior Angela Walker summed up the game, "The Lincoln game was an exciting one! The intensity level was high. Everything seemed to be going our way. The win felt good especially for the younger players. I owe the game to Sunga, he kept us going when we were tired and ready to give up."

The team ended their season with their annual banquet. Awards were given to the following players: best server -- senior Katherine Doudna; best blocking assists -- senior Amy Westereamp; best hitter -- senior Angela Walker; best diggs --Walker and sophomore Esther Rude. The coaches also had awards for the following: Most Improved -- Rude and Most valuable player --Walker.

The volleyball team agreed that it was a good year even with a new coach and only winning a couple of games. "Adjusting to a new coach is really hard, but most the players agreed that the year was fun and they made an effort to build a better team," senior Katherine Doudna said.

"Getting use to Coach Sunga's new coaching techniques was rough, but I think that the team worked well together. He has a lot to offer to the team. I hope future players take advantage of it," senior Amy Westercamp said.

Bump! Set! Spike!

he freshmen and junior varsity volleyball teams had a season with only a couple of victories. Freshman Dena Shoemaker said that they beat SE Polk and remembered JV winning only two of their matches.

The freshmen starters were Holly Feickert, Christy Grimm, Jodie Long, Emily Minnis, Stephanie Roskamp, and Dena Shoemaker.

Minnis said she felt that the team's serving improved during the season, but needs more improvement. Minnis said, "By the end of the season we were working together pretty good, like a family."

Shoemaker said she felt that the team did well in the tournaments. She said, "The team improved a lot and we played more like a team near the end. I think we'll have a good team next year."

The JV starters were juniors Cheri Cannon, Danielle Delaria, Jenny Mann and sophomores Keri Gordon, Mandee Graham, and Darci Hoffman. Graham and Gordon said, "We needed more team work and needed to not be so offensive towards each other." Graham said the team had better skills and blocked and spiked more.

Mann said, "The team needed to encourage each other more and have a more positive look at volleyball."

he 1992 Marlins floated through a bittersweet season. After a losing streak of eight meets, the Marlins came back with a three and four season; however, no one qualified for State. The district meet, which was held at Valley, was extremely slow compared with other districts across the state.

The diving team had an outstanding season with a six and one record, only losing to Dowling. Two divers, Shelly Ringgenberg and Christina Corkery, had dreams of the State meet, but sickness plagued them both the week of districts. Ringgenberg did not take part in the conference meet, the first eleven dive meet of the season, and she missed three days of practice the week of districts. Corkery's illness was in the middle of the season, but she never fully recovered. These two divers, along with junior Heather Mogenson and sophomore Jessica Thorne, won every meet but one.

At the beginning of the year, both Marlene Due and Kaia Thiese swam the 200 and 500 yard freestyle. They eame in first and second in almost every meet, beating each other by hundreths of seconds. Later in the season Due switched to the 100 freestyle. This change almost guaranteed a first place finish by her in the 100 and in the 500 by Thiese.

The 400 freestyle relay had a phenomenal season. Each week the four swimmers brought their time down. The relay had great hopes of making State, but these dreams were erased after a disappointing swim at districts. The girls came within eight one hundreths of a second from the State qualifing time from the year before. Although they dropped two seconds off their lifetime best, it just was not good enough. The relay consisted of Due, Thiese, Emily Reagh, and Kari Bassett.

This year's first recipient of the Andy Kaufman Award was Jennifer Monroe. This award was previously the most improved swimmer award; but, after a massive heart attack suffered by Kaufman, the team decided to name this award after him as a memorial.

"He dedicated himself to both the girls' and boys' swim team to help the young women and men improve, especially the junior varsity swimmers. His presence at poolside was greaty missed this season," Monroe said.

A long and winding roadrun...

Team looks for leadership, sends Marotti to State

he Boys Cross Country team was very young this year, and suffered a disappointing season. Coach Ron Peterson said, "With no seniors, we had to search for leadership this season. Luckily for us, juniors Steve Marotti and Jimmy Farrand stepped up and ran well."

Marotti returned again this year in fine form to win his second straight CIML American Conference title. Marotti also achieved his biggest goal, attending the State meet in Ames. Under miserable rainy and wet conditions, Marotti finished an impressive 15th, with a lifetime best time of 16:26. Marotti said, "I ran pretty well this year, but hopefully with an older team next year, we can all do better."

Other varsity runners this year included junior Jim Farrand, Mike Canine, Jason Taylor, and Lee Johnson. The underclassmen varsity runners were sophomores Josh Hulling, Chris Roozen, and freshman Tim Schnoor. The J.V. runners were juniors Carl Jackson, Jason Simpson, sophomore Jeff Sharp, and freshmen Ryan Mitchell and Aaron Thiese.

"Hopefully we'll gct good off-season work from our team so we can all improve next season," said Peterson. Page design by Heather Starek he 1992 Girls Cross Contry team started off slow this year, peaked during the middle, and was hampered by bad weather at the end of the season. Senior Amy Farley led the Huskies to a second place team finish at the Urbandale Classic. In the Urbandale/Newton/Hoover meet, Farley placed first with a time of 13:27, helping to lead the team to another second place finish.

The Dawgs were led this season by letterwinners Mareia Dobson, Amy Farley, Mendy Mayo, Kara Morrison, Christina Mueller, and Erica Swanson. Farley received the "Outstanding Runner" award for the '92 season and freshman Kristie Sullivan was named "Most Improved Runner".

The team stressed a weight lifting routine along with their daily practice this year.

"The girls were hesitant at first, but I think they realized it paid off as the season progressed." said Jankovitz.

Girls' Golf Tees Off

he girls' golf team had seven members this year. The team practiced at Longview Golfing Range or at Waveland Golf Course after school for about an hour and a half each night.

Yet, the team got off to a rough start because of a lot of rainy weather. As a result of the rain they missed a lot of practices.

Junior Amy Portraz said the team had several newcomers, but they weren't really affected by the rain. She said the team did really well considering all factors.

Boy's Golf swings into action

he '93 boys' golf team, led by returning seniors Andy Newman and Randy Vernon, finished a highly competitive season by placing 14th in the district meet.

Newman was one of the area's better golfers. He led Hoover in seoring in 11 of 13 meets with an 84 stroke average. Vernon was next in line, holding a 95 stroke average. Dan Newman was third, averaging 99 strokes per 18 holes.

The team had excellent leadership by the two seniors. The squad also had several young and dedicated golfers. Coach Bobby Sandquist said, "This was a fine group of young men to work with."

Andy Newman grabbed the Golfer of the Year award and teammate Randy Vernon was named to the Academic All-Conference Golf Team.

Newman, who has accepted a scholarship to Indian Hills Junior College, said, "The golf team didn't do a bad job, we had some ups and downs. Next year will be tough, but they should get along and do a decent job in the CIMC."

Varsity Boys Persevere Through Tough Season

he varsity basketball team ended a tough season with a respectable record of nine wins and 11 losses and finished the season fourth in the American division of the CIML Conference. The Huskics started the preseason ranked number eight in the state. They started the season off slow, but gained momentum towards the end the season.

The team was led all year by sophomore Jody Woods, who led the team in scoring and both offensive and defensive rebounds. Woods was named a second team all-conference selection. Other leaders for the squad were sophomore Wesley Burrell, junior Bryan Martin, and seniors Donnie Gier and Kyle Kelly, who all received all-conference honorable mention honors. Gier made himself known as a shooting threat by leading the American with 42 three pointers. Martin was the second leading three point shooter for the Huskies making 28. Defensively Burrell snagged 112 rebounds and was one of the all-around defensive leaders along with Woods, Kelly and junior Manfred Dikkers.

The team was helped by great depth on the bench. Sophomores Billy Young, Jamal Mosely, Duane Johnson, junior Cortez Nichols, and seniors Joe Rumley and Tye Kirk all played a vital role.

Some of the scason's highlights were two close wins over Indianola, an early season victory over Roosevelt, and the regular season finale over North at North. Coach Bobby Sanquist said he knew going into the season they would be in several close games. There were ten games during the season that were decided by four points or less and the Huskics lost six of them.

Sandquist said, "Despite a disappointing tournament loss we finished the season strong with five wins in our last six games. The team was a pleasure to work with and worked hard to improve during the season. The conference was very competitive and we were competing with several young players which should provide some future dividends."

Freshmen pull off huge wins

he freshmen boys basketball team finished with two victories against East. The wins, along with a combined record of 25-8, ended a season of high expectations.

"The team goals were to have a winning season, have fun, and be the best we could be," said Eric Groen.

The highlights of the season was the A team's road victory at Indianola. The squad was down 17 points going into the second half. But the Huskies rallied back and won on a last seond shot by Tim Schnoor. The A team ended with an 11-6 record, the best, Lawler said, in four or five years.

For the B team, the highlight was against Dowling. Earlier, the Maroons downed the Huskies. This time the Huskies won. They finished 14-2.

Many players felt that the season was personally successful. Jesse Woody said, "For me, the highlights were scoring my first and last baskets of the season."

he sophomores started the season on the right track, winning their first seven games before losing to the Dowling Maroons. The sophs ended with a record of 14-4, dropping games to Dowling twice, North twice, and S.E. Polk.

The most exciting basketball game of the season was against Roosevelt, Coach Haywood Boston said. "Hoover was behind the whole game, but came back in the last four seconds to pick up the win".

Duane Johnson led the sophs in points, Curt Lamb in rebounds, and Jamal Mosely in assists. Along with playing with the sophomores, Johnson and Mosely also played in several varsity games.

Coach Boston said he was proud of the team's efforts. "This was a team who hated to lose," he said. "They played great defense and hustled. A lot of the players will contribute to varsity next year."

Varsity Girls Endure Long Season

he Varsity Girls Basketball team finished the season with a disappointing record of 2-20. Despite their record, they fought hard every game and never gave up. The team suffered from lack of experience on the varsity playing level as they had only two seniors and three sophomores on the team.

The team's two victories came against Roosevelt. In the first game the Huskies prevailed by a score of 58-53 in overtime. The team was led in scoring by junior Wendy Bicket, who had 16 points. She was followed junior Angie Gaddis' 11 points and sophomore Esther Rude's ten points. The Huskies were led in rebounding by Gaddis and senior Marci Dobson with ten rebounds each. In the second game against Roosevelt the score was 44-39. Gaddis led Hoover in both scoring and rebounding with 14 points and eight rebounds followed by Dobson with ten points and five rebounds.

For the scason, the leading scorers were Bicket with an average of 7.5 points per game, and Gaddis, with an average of 6.3 points per game. The leading rebounders were Dobson with 107 rebounds, sophomore Keri Gordon with 78, and Gaddis with 72 rebounds. Rude led the Huskies in assists with 57.

"This year was a little frustrating, but toward the end of the season we started working well together which should help us be more competitive next year," Gaddis said.

"For a team that only won two games, I am proud of them. They played their best basketball the last five games. The girls kept trying to improve and continued to work hard until the end of the season. That makes the season fun for the athletes, the coaches, and the students that support them," coach Ron Peterson said.

Freshmen Strive To Improve

any say that improvement comes with time and in losing one learns. After enduring a long and hard season the record of the Freshmen A-Team stands at 2-16. The A-Team was led by Emily Minnis in seoring with 106 points.

"This team has some real potential, we just struggled this year trying to put it together. Although our play was inconsistent at times, we worked hard to get better," coach Tim Pezetti said.

The B-Team had many close games but ended up short with a 3-11 record. The three wins included two wins over North and one over SE Polk. The team was led by leading scorer Tiffany Walker with 55 points.

"I got to work with a really good group of girls this year. Although we were plagued with inconsistent plays and struggled for wins, we worked hard to improve. They should be much more competitive with other teams in the future," coach Laura Ahrendt said.

Huskies strive to survive

any people say that before you can start to improve, you must first hit rock bottom. If this strue, then happier days are soon to come for the sophomore girls' basketball team. Winning only two games this season, the team has a lot of room for improvement.

The sophomore girls' basketball season did have its bright moments. According to Rachel Decker, their wins against Roosevelt and North were a great experience. In the game against North, the girls came into North's own gym and, as April Gibson put it, "kicked some serious butt!"

Their season wasn't as kind to them as they would have wanted. Five games were lost by seven or fewer points. Those games were very close and maybe with just a different bounce of the ball those games could have been won. According to Coach Adams, the girls were in a postion to win a lot of games they played in, which made it a lot of fun.

Taylor Newman said, "I thought the season went well for us for the most part. Even though we didn't end up with a winning season, we all improved a lot, and had a great time."

ed by eaptains Tim Hansen, Adam Albright, J.J. Bailey, Jeremy Valley, and District Coach of the Year David Linder, the boys' swimming team wrapped up a successful season obtaining a 5-2 record and placing third at Districts.

The "Chlorine Crew" had an exceptional season and sent eight of their swimmers to state. State qualifiers included seniors Adam Albright and J.J. Bailey: juniors Tim Hansen, Tim Kozitza, and Scott Kutehen; sophomores Brian Stroud and Mike Canine. The 200-yard freestyle relay team, consisting of Hansen, Williams, Albright, and Kozitza, placed fifth at State and broke the school record with a time of 1:31.13. Hansen, who placed second last year at State in the 100-yard breaststroke, received first this year with a time of 59.28.

"I am extremely pleased with this year's team. They did a lot better than what I had expected and I can't say enough about them." coach David Linder said.

Wrestlers come up short

he Hoover High wrestling squad returned four letterwinners from last year. Among them were seniors Steve Graves and Liddell Thomas, along with juniors Gary Dohrn and Jesse Bierma. Newcomer Joe Lamb added a strong showing for the freshmen class, and Aaron Ramsey provided support for the sophomores.

Although the grapplers were winless this season, they competed tough in every meet. At the Johnston Duels against Bondurant, Hoover filled nine of thirteen weights, and ended up winning five out of those nine matches. Dohrn pinned his man, Lamb won by decision in sudden death over-time, Thomas and Knighton pinned their opponents, and Graves won by decision. The final team score was 28-46. Hoover lost, but showed a lot of determination and enthusiam.

Kighton said, "Even though we didn't win as a team, individually everyone performed well." Lamb said, "I am looking forward to the next three seasons; hopefully we will come together as a team."

Even though there were no state bound grapplers, Graves said, "Although the young were inexperienced, they were wise at heart. They will be strong competitors in years to come."

Girls Track

Declining participants leads to disappointing season

he girls track team started out the season on a good foot. The first stop for the girls was at the Valley Relays. The team ran against 18 other high schools and came out strong with a eighth place finish.

On April 12 the team ran at the Urbandale Initational and ended up getting eighth place, with a strong finish from Andra VanRokel in the open 400 meters. The team then placed fourth at the Lincoln Invitational.

Coach Jankovit said the most improved runner was forcign exchange student Marlene Due. Coach Robert Jankovitz said, "Foreign exchange student Marlene Due did very well. She did very well in the 3,000 and the 1,500 meters." Due ran her best time of 11:57.5 at the district meet later in the year.

The track team struggled later on in season due to declining numbers. Jankovitz said all but two of the freshmen quit, and the team was plaqued by injuries. Returning letterwinners Amy Farley and Meggan Christensen were both out for a large portion of the season.

Sophomore Erica Swanson said, "I was not happy with the team's performance, but if we train harder in the off season we'll have a better season next year."

B oys track was hampered early on in the season by bad weather and injuries. Returning state qualifier Steve Marotti was out for several weeks with achilles tendonitis in his foot.

Highlights of the season included the  $4 \times 100 \text{ m.}$  and  $4 \times 200 \text{ m.}$  relay teams. Freshman Jay Hall, sophomore Jay Simonini, junior Jason Simpson and senior Liddell Thomas took first place at the Hoover meet with a time of 45.70 and qualified for Drake Relays. At the City Series, the  $4 \times 200$  m. relay team placed fourth with a time of 1:34.51. Marotti returned to place first in the 3200 m. run, and sophomore Josh Hulling finished first in the 400 m. hurdles.

In field events, junior Tim Hansen placed second in the discus, and Christopher placed second in the high jump.

In the CIML Conference meet, Marotti broke the old meet record by .5 of a second in the 3200 with his winning time of 10:01.

Girls battle against big guns

he girls' tennis season was not full of very many surprises. Except for the injury to Katherine Doudna, Hoover's top seed, the season went pretty much as anticipated.

The team beat every team that it expected to, except for North Polk, which was their first match. According to coach Jeff Card, the team had a tough time against bigger schools such as Roosevelt, Urbandale, and Lincoln. He said the reason for this was because their teams' have racquet club players that can practice year-round and Hoover's players pick up their racquets only a week before the season begins.

Senior Katherine Doudna said, "I had big hopes for this year's girls tennis team. I was really looking forward to playing with another experienced senior, Molly Hulten. However, injury struck and for several meets this year we were without the number one and two players. The team has a long way to go. It is impossible to compete with teams who have players that play year-round indoor tennis."

Senior Molly Hulten said, "Other than having to dodge all the rain, we had a pretty good year. We got a lot of experience. Not only did we learn how to play tennis better, but we also learned some valuable lessons of life that will enrich us the rest of our lives. One of these lessons was that winning wasn't everything and that even losers can be winners. Also we learned that when the going gets tough, the tough get going."

Junior Huong Do said, "Next year I hope that a lot of us will benefit from practicing more and working harder. It will hurt losing our talented seniors, but we our confident that if we remain healthy we can come back even stronger next year."

Card summed up the season by saying, "I'd like to thank the seniors for a great time at Hoover. They've always hung in there even when they knew they were up against it (tough times). Especially Molly Hulten who played number one for two years. I'd also like to thank Mandy Beard, Katherine Doudna, and Missy Schnell for their work and support."

he boys' tennis team finished its season with a 4-5 record. The team defeated Indianola, East, North, and North Polk. They missed a winning season by losing to Southeast Polk 6-5 after holding a 5-0 lead. Haigh said, "Newman and I were disappointed with how the rest of the team played."

The team was led by many seniors this season. The singles players were #1 senior Johan Balle, #2 senior Todd Kilpatrick, #3 senior Andrew Haigh, #4 senior Andy Newman, #5 senior Randy Vernon, and #6 junior Joe Waller. The doubles teams were #1 Balle-Kilpatrick, #2 Haigh-Newman, #3 Vernon-Waller, #4 sophomores Ryan Lundholm-Tyler Williams, #5 juniors Matt Talcott-Mike Petersen.

Senior foreign exchange student Johan Balle came to the team and worked his way to number one on the ladder. Coach Lundholm said, "Johan's victory against the #1 Indianola player 6-1 and 6-0 was very impressive." Balle and Todd Kilpatrick also beat the #1 East doubles team 3-6, 6-3, and 6-4 for another surprising victory. Balle summed up his experience saying, "I'm the best."

Returning letterwinners included four-year letterwinners Kilpatrick, Haigh, and Newman. Vernon was a three-year letterwinner. Lundholm said, "We will miss the seniors and their outstanding play next year."

Varsity baseball led by new coach

he Hoover Huskies varsity team was led by new head coach Mare Chelleen. Chelleen took over the head coaching position after the retirement of longtime coach Bob Watson. Chelleen had been the sophomore coach for several years here at Hoover before taking the varsity job.

The team was looking forward to playing its first games in the Urbandale Classic on May 27-29 but the tournament was rained out. The Huskies were also seheduled to play in the Urbandale Invitational June 3-5 but it was also rained out. Conference play began June 8 with a doubleheader at East followed on the 9th by a game in Marshalltown. Hoover was scheduled to play 40 games this year, including tournament games.

Returning letterwinners for the team were seniors Joe McCarthy, Andrew Haigh, Kyle Kelly, Dave Wagner, Randy Vernon, Ben Lustig, Lidell Thomas, and Marlon Knighton. Juniors Rusty Post and Bryan Martin were also returning letterwinners for the Huskies.

New coach leads

tarting off the season with new coach Wendy Turner, the 1993 Hoover softball team were led by seven leterwinners. The returnees were seniors Marcia Dobson, Angie Walker, Amy Westercamp, Andra VanRoekel, Jennifer Monroe; juniors Angie Jones and Wendy Bicket.

Coach Turner is the daughter of last year's coach Tom Turner and is an experienced softball player who played in high school and college.

"I think it's great that Wendy Turner is coaching this year's JV-Varsity softball team. It's good for the team to have a coach who knows us as friends and not just players," sophomore Erica Swanson said.

"To meet the high expectations set on our team to continue last year's success is one of our biggest goals. I'm looking forward to the season and our new coach Wendy Turner is a great addition to the program," senior Amy Westercamp said.

Players return for promising season

he freshmen softball team is hoping for a successful summer season. This year the team has a new coach, Chris Cox, and will also be adding eight grade pitcher Missy Priest.

Cox said some of the top returning players are Stephanie Roskamp, Emily Minnis, Jodie Long, and Kari Greenlee. For many of the players this will be their second year with the Hoover softball program because Hoover allows the girls to participate as eighth graders.

by Michelle Murphy

The 1993 freshmen baseball team consisted of freshmen Joe Lamb, Ryan Stinson, Eric Groen, Ryan Mitchell, James Grimaldi, Dan Newman, Tim Coughennower, Jason Van Hemert and 14 eighth-graders from Meredith Middle School.

The underclassmen baseball teams started practice on May 3. The frosh had their first game on June 9 at Lincoln. They were coached by Chris Frosheiser.

"Our goals were to win most of the games and have a great season," freshmen Ryan Mitchell said.

The sophomores opened conference play on June 8 against East under new coach Scott Noah.

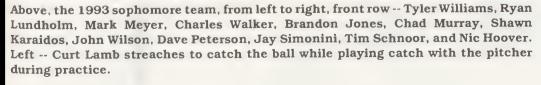

Returning starters from last year's team were sophomores Tyler Williams, Ryan Lundholm, Brandon Jones, and Shawn Karaidos.

"The sophomore team goal was 25 wins," freshman Tim Schnoor said. He, along with freshmen Nic Hoover, Dave Peterson, and Chad Murray played with the sophomores.

Young Soccer Team Kicks Way To Top

he 1993 Hoover Soccer team started their season with practice on May 3, 1993. The first non-conference game was played at home against Johnston. Head coach Pat Kozitza said, "I was very optimistic about this last year; I liked the talent level which we had. Even though early in the season we had a lot to learn, I would have to say things ended up looking pretty good."

The final score was Johnston-2, Hoover-1. The Hoover goal was made by freshman Ryan Johnson, and was assisted by sophomore Jeremy Cooper. "I thought we had a successful year. What we lacked in experience, we made up for in skill," freshman Bryan Howe said.

Leading the team were the captains, senior Adam Albright, and sophomore Jeremy Cooper. This year, there were 11 returning lettermen -- seniors Adam Albright, Dylan Cook, Bao Tran and Nha Ho; junior Tim Kozitza; sophomores Jeremy Cooper, Aaron Starek, Darren Bass, Tom Lamb, Jeff Sinwell, and Chris Roozen.

"We lost a bunch of seniors, but we still had potential even though our team was young. Hopefully in the future, we'll step up to a level where we can compete in the high school tournaments, and maybe even win it next year," Cooper said.

Yell Leaders and Timers cheer on swimmers

ho are the timers, yell leaders, and managers? They are organizations of students that support the swimming program at Hoover. During the swimming season, they could have been found running meets, taking times, or cheering a Hoover swimmer on to victory. President of the Timers and Yell Leaders Club, Kaia Thiese, said, "Hoover swimming would not run as smoothly without us. We run the meets and help get the guys and girls fired up."

The groups were open to anyone interested in helping out the swim team and coach Dave Linder. Many of the participants were swimmers, but this was not a requirement to become involved. The clubs will be continuing to cheer on the Hoover swimmers next year, but they will be without many involved senior members. Graduating seniors included Sara Cox, Sarah Crawford, Lydia Hove, Kristi Moseley, Kaia Thiese, Val Vanderlip, Cathy Vortherms, and foreign exchange student Marlene Due. Next year's clubs will be led by the over 15 returning timers, yell leaders, and managers.

he 1992 varsity football cheerleaders had a busy season this year. Along with cheering the varsity football games, they took part in the Frosh Bash, the Beaverdale Parade, and the Hoover Auction. They also participated in the homecoming assembly by doing cheers to fire up the students. At the homecoming assembly the girls danced to the tune "3, 2, 1, Pump." The dance was chorcographed by a friend of the cheeleaders, Connie Kurth.

Senior captain Lydia Hove said, "This year we really tried to get the crowd more involved and more responsive. Our squad worked well together and it really showed at the Homecoming assembly, dance, and at Hoover's victory over North!"

Scnior captain Mandi Snyder added, "This season we got to know the new schools in the conference (CIMCL). We worked hard on good sportsmanship and getting to know other cheerleaders. The highlight of our season was the victory over North. When everyone ran out on the field, our school really seemed to be together."

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS GET FUNKY !!!

he 1992-93 varsity basketball cheerleaders worked hard all season to make this year a success. From the funds raised last year they were able to buy new tops, shoes, socks and pom pons, which gave the squad a fresh new look.

During the spring assembly, the cheerleaders performed a funky dance to the song "Doctor in the House." Junior Cathy Corbin said. "The dance was a lot of fun to perform, and was well received by the crowd." They also added a little spice to the games by introducing a new version to an old eheer. "The Funky Chicken", which was a real erowd pleaser. Junior Christie Corkery said, "The cheer realy pumped up the crowd which made eheering a lot more fun."

Overall, the cheerleaders felt the scason was a success. They got the crowd more involved, and made lasting friendships."

Senior Amy Westercamp said, "Cheerleading has added to my senior year because it allowed me to get more involved in school, while making new friends."

he 1992-93 Varsity Wrestling cheerleaders had an eventful year. Before the year even started they were selling candy to raise money for new uniforms. The girls started out with three new cheerleaders, Katie McGrath, Adrian Blythe, and Tammy Webber. The three returning cheerleaders were Ethel Darling, a 1991-92 wrestling cheerleader; Melanie Mann, a 1991-92 junior varsity wrestling cheerleader; and Captain Heather Mogenson, who took a leave of absence from basketball cheerleading.

"By the end of the season all of the girls were pros," sophomore Melanie Mann said.

As the year progressed the girls performed a dance at Hoover for the Boone vs. Newton wrestling match to the song "Deeper and Deeper" by Madonna. Junior Tammy Webber said, "Overall the year was a fun and enjoyable experience."

We Got It ...

he 1992-1993 underclassmen cheerleaders season started off with regular Monday night aeropics preparing the cheerleaders for upcoming activities. Sponsor Carmen Sandstrom led them in 30 minutes of high and low inpact aerobics. Sophomore Amy Martin said, "I thought the aerobics were good for everyone to keep us in shape for the seasons."

In between all the practices and games, the cheerleaders also found time for a fundraiser. They sold items such as Easter candies and Christmas wrapping paper. Their goal was to get new uniforms for each squad. Sophomore Andrea Smith said, "I thought they were comfortable and cool. They kept us warm during the games."

May you never lose your sense of wonder as you climb the ladder of life.

Love,

Mom and Dad

P.S. Are those Birkenstocks?

You've gotten up early to swim and marched and to deliver the daily paper. You've been a part of some great team efforts. (And probably even some capers.)

You're ready; you can do it!
What else is there to say?
Good Luck, J.J.

High school was meant to be remembered. Fifty years from now, this yearbook will be the bridge between the present and the past. Long after high school has passed, the memories will always remain.

Producing this yearbook was not easy. Missed deadlines, an unproductive staff, and stupid computers delayed our progress greatly. No one would be here in "You Are Here" if it were not for some very special people mentioned below.

The editors would like to thank all of the advertisers; staff photographers -- Dana Bemis. Raehel Deeker, Jarriet DeWitt, Jill Jackson, and Chad Taylor; professional photographers Jolesch and Mullica; and Herff Jones representative Todd Schwartz for their contributions to the yearbook. A special thanks goes out to Ms. Laura Ahrendt, who through her knowledge of journalism, time and dedication, spent countless hours helping the staff with the production of "You Are Here".
